

Camp Casey Code of Conduct

We want Camp Casey to be a fun, safe place to spend the week for everyone. In order to do this, we all need to follow certain rules. As a camper, this means your child is expected to:

Participate

- The more you do the more fun you will have.
- Help other campers to have fun at these events by including and encouraging them.

Respect Others

- Don't take or use others belongings without their permission.
- Cooperate with and follow the requests of the counselors and Kiwanians.
- Be considerate in respecting others privacy.
- Have good table manners and quiet voices while in the mess hall.
- Keep noise level down while others are sleeping and be in bed before curfew.
- Treat others as you want to be treated.
- Don't use bad or rude language or speak badly of others.
- No hitting, wrestling, teasing or name calling or inappropriate touching.
- Campers are not allowed in any other barracks except to that which they are assigned.

Be Safe

- Don't leave camp unless for an approved camp activity or without the supervision of a counselor. Always sign out before leaving and sign in when returning. You must be part of a group.
- Do not go to an isolated area alone or allow yourself to be taken to an isolated area by anyone.
- Wear your camper identification bracelet the whole time you are at camp.
- Do not bring any latex materials, such as swimming aids, toys or balloons. Several campers are allergic to Latex.
- Be careful going up or down steep ramps at camp. Ask for help from a counselor.
- Tell a head counselor if anyone does or says anything that makes you feel uncomfortable.
- No prohibited items: fireworks, matches, lighters, flammable liquids, weapons, tobacco, drugs (all approved meds are to be administered by the nurse). No smoking.

Camper Printed Name

I have acknowledged and discussed with my camper the above "Casey Code of Conduct" for 2010. We know what is expected at Kiwanis Camp Casey, and agree to follow the guidelines.
